PRESEMTS MAP OF REDWOOD HEIGHTS

Scatena's Colma Saloon Ordered Closed. Liquor Must Not Be Sold to Women

The board of supervisors met in regular monthly session last Monday and transacted purely routine business. All the members were present.

The report of County Horticultural Commissioner Newton Peck showed that he had examined 148 shrubs during the month of June, all of which were passed as clean, also nine cars of potatoes shipped to Portland, Oregon.

At his request the horticultural commissioner was given permission to attend the State Association of County Horticultural Commissioners' convention, which is to be held at Fresno July 15th.

The report of James R. Eubanks, superintendent of the County Hospital, showed that 59 inmates had been taken care of in that institution during the month of June, of which number 11 had been discharged.

Miss Anne Bell Bailey, county librarian, presented her report, showing an expenditure during the month of $260.73.

The following persons have complied with the county ordinance and furnished the required bond, were granted liquor licenses:

First Township.—H. M. Belli, Colma; A. J. Wulich, Colma; Al. Allemand, Colma.

Second Township.—S. A. Amador, San Mateo; C. Schwarz, Beresford; A. Baradat, San Mateo.

Third Township.—J. M. Williamson, Woodside.

Fourth Township.—A. Picchi, Half Moon Bay; J. V. Azevedo, Halfmoon Bay; Alex. Bonagni, Halfmoon Bay; E. E. Kerrick, Halfmoon Bay; W. H. Gresskurth, Marine View.

Fifth Township.—M. Goularte, Pescadero; Mrs. E. R. Bell, San Gregorio Barker & Son, San Gregorio.

The application of Henry Kopp of Visitacion was laid over for 30 days on motion of Casey, seconded by MacBain.

District Attorney Swart appeared before the board in the matter of the application of D. Scatena of Colma for a liquor license. Scatena conducts the hotel known as the D'Italia where during a drunken brawl last week a young stevedore named Conway, killed an Italian. The district attorney stated that he had secured sufficient evidence to show that both men had been given liquor at the hotel bar while they were in a bad state in intoxication, and he asked that the license be refused and the place closed.

Supervisor Brown addressed the board and stated that he heartily favored the stand taken by the district attorney and that he was in favor of shutting every saloon in the county that did not fully comply with the rules and regulations. The other members of the board expressed themselves in the same emphatic manner and on motion of Casey, seconded by Brown, the application of Scatenas was rejected and he was ordered to close up his saloon at once.

The district attorney also stated that there were several saloons in the county that were making a practice of selling liquor over the bar to women. He said that unless this practice ceases an investigation would be made which would result in the offending saloonmen having their licenses taken away from them.

The following applications for liquor licenses will be acted upon a month hence:

First Township.—Sam Hutchinson, Colma; Carl H. Lovergreen, Millbrae Adolfo Guisio, Pedro Valley; A. G. Famacutti, Colma.

Second Township.—Fred S. Adams Belmont.

Third Township.—William A. Maloney, Redwood City (Class B).

Fourth Township.—G. Patroni, Halfmoon Bay; A. Boitano, Halfmono Bay; H. Martin, Farallone.

A petition, signed by E. T. Honk and thirteen other residents of Rockaway Beach in the First Township, asking for the repairing of Hewitt avenue at that place, was referred to Supervisor Casey.

A communication from Miss Elma F. Early, city clerk of San Mateo, invited the members of the board to attend a luncheon at the Palace Hotel in San Francisco, June 30, for the purpose of considering the matter of securing one of the moving picture concerns in San Mateo, was received and ordered filed.

A communication from F. X. Lexner, asking permission to place a load of manure at the Millbrae station, was referred to the district attorney.

Mrs. Henry W. Brown, widow of the assemblyman, addressed a communication to the board thanking the county officials for their sympathies and floral offering.

Surveyor Jas. V. Neuman presented a map of Redwood Heights, the new subdivision northwest of the town of Redwood and situated on Brittan avenue. On motion of MacBain, seconded by Thompson, the map was ordered referred to the board of trustees of Redwood, which is in accordance with the state law, for them to make whatever recommendations they may see fit.

The fire commissioners of the Menlo Park fire district, consisting of A. C. G. Hahn, C. W. Marwadel and C. R. Walter, submitted their report showing the result of the election held in Menlo on June 27 to vote on the proposition of levying a tax of $15,000 to establish and equip a fire-department in the Menlo Park district. The returns showed that there were 158 votes cast at the election of which number 100 were in favor of the proposition and 58 against. The report was accepted and ordered filed on motion of MacBain, seconded by Francis.

Miss Maria Guglielnetti, aged 70, of Redwood City, in poor health, was granted $8 per month county aid, on motion of MacBain, seconded by Casey.

Ned Trevylian, aged 73, a resident of Halfmoon Bay, and in poor health, was granted county aid in the sum of $8 per month, on motion of Casey, seconded by Brown.

Mrs. Mary Ann McMahon, aged 76, of Daly City, also in poor health, was granted aid in the sum of $8, an motion of Casey, seconded by MacBain.

An application was received from George J. Doering of Daly City asking for the appointment of superintendent of construction of the new county jail. The application was ordered filed.

State aid was given a large number of applicants and a number of renewals for state aid was ordered.

Superfisor Thompson addressed the board in the matter of the condition of the San Gregorio creek road. He stated that since the opening of the new La Honda highway there had been such heavy traffic over the mountains and on the San Gregorio road that the latter was being rapidly cut to pieces and that unless action was taken at once toward oiling the road there would be very little of it left.

Surveyor Neuman, who was called, reported that the road was ready and in proper condition at the present time for receiving the oiling and he recommended that the work be done without delay.

On motion of Thompson, seconded by Brown, the engineer was instructed to prepare plans and specifications for oiling and screening the above thoroughfare.

On motion of Casey, seconded by Brown, the supervisor of the First District was given permission to purchase 200 feet of 15-inch corrugated iron pipe for use in his district.

On motion of Thompson, seconded by MacBain, D. McKenzie of Redwood City, was appointed inspector of the concrete work on the new county jail, he is to work under the supervision of the architect of the building W. H. Toopke.

Supervisors Brown and Francis, the committee appointed to look into the amount of damage done the home of W. G. Jacobs at Farallone through the breaking of the fill at that place last winter, reported that in their estimation Jacobs was entitled to $400 for his losses, and not $500, as he claimed.

With the understanding that the Ocean Shore Railroad would stand one-half of the above loss, it was ordered, on motion of Brown, seconded by MacBain, that the district attorney be instructed to make a settlement with Jacobs for the remaining portion, or $200.

District attorney read a communication from the superintendent of the 18th lighthouse district in the matter of the damage done the lighthouse at Montara Point on account of the breaking of the above fill. It was estimated that the total damage would not exceed $500 which amount would be divided between the county and the Ocean Shore Railroad. The latter had already repaired some of the damage done and expressed a willingness to do their share. The government suggested that the county repair the 46-foot pipe and the bridge across the ravine as its part of the work.

A resolution presented by District Attorney Swart, accepting the government's proposition andordering the above repairs and replacements made by County Surveyor Jas. V. Neuman, was adopted, on motion of MacBain, seconded by Brown. The resolution expressly provides that the settlement is made as a compromise measure and is in no wise an acknowledgement by the county of any liability for the damage done by the flood water which caused the damage in question.

Supervisor Casey reported that he had been offered $125 for the damaged car used at the poor farm in trade for a small Overland, which cost $690.

On motion of MacBain, seconded by Brown, it was ordered that a committee of three be appointed to look into the matter of selecting the very best machine for the poor farm with the least expenditure of money. The chair thereupon appointed Supervisors Brown, Casey and MacBain to act on the said committee.

County Assessor D. P. Flynn presented the new assessment rolls, showing the county valuation to be as follows:

Daly City	$ 787,785.00
South San Francisco	1,153,700.00
City of San Bruno	873,100.00

The rolls were accepted on motion of MacBain, seconded by Casey.

County Assessor Flynn presented the military rolls of the county, showing 3511 persons subject to military duty. The roll was accepted, on motion of MacBain, seconded by Casey, County Assessor Flynn was authorized to have the new assessment books rebound at a cost not to exceed $120.

RAILROAD TO CONTINUE PAY OF NATIONAL GUARD MEN

Southern Pacific Company Will Continue Pay of Employees at Front

The Southern Pacific Company announces that those of its employees who were members on June 17, 1916, of the National Guard of any state its lines traverse, and who are called out for army service are granted leave of absence with the understanding that they will retain their promotion rights and they can resume their positions with the company when the Government relieves them from service.

While such employees are serving in response to the call of the Government, the company will also allow, until September 30th of this year, to enlisted men, whether non-commissioned officers or privates:

1. To those married, full pay.

2. To those unmarried, with families dependent upon them for support, three-quarters to full pay, according to controlling circumstances.

3. To those unmarried, with dependent families, half pay.

The company will allow to commissioned officers above and including the grade of second lieutenant:

1. To those married, the difference between company and Government pay, when Government pay is less.

2. To those unmarried with dependent families, three-quarters full pay, but, with Government pay added thereto, not to exceed regular salary.

PERILOUS ATHLETICS.

Sport That Wrecks the Heart an Evil to Be Avoided.

"No one will gainsay the value and pleasure of outdoor exercise graduated to suit the needs of every individual throughout life," says the Journal of the American Medical Association, "but the species of overdoing called for in the intense competition of the great contests of our schools and colleges can no longer be defended by platitudes regarding the alleged psychologic value of its competitive features. The time has come when statistics regarding latent athletic injuries must be reckoned with and the lives of our youths safeguarded by making a distinction between sane sport and insane participation in the intolerable strain of competitive games of the extreme type."

The same paper says the authorities of colleges need to be reminded in an emphatic way, in the words of Dr. R. N. Wilson of Philadelphia, that "no form of athletic event is sane that demands of the participants the semiconscious state of heart exhaustion at its conclusion."

And it denounces the daredevil forms of "sport" that depend for their thrill on nearest possible approach to death by the actors in them, such, for example, as "looping the loop" in an aeroplane or driving a motorcar a hundred miles an hour. Such, it says, are not sport, but degeneracy.

The Cart Before the Horse.

Mr. Harbord had a jewel of a servant called Johanna. One day he found his bedroom a foot deep in old and muddy tea leaves. Johanna explained, "The missus said I made such a dust when I swept the floor and that I must put tea leaves all over the carpet, so I emptied the old barrel standing by the kitchen door, and I put them on the floor like missus said, master, after I had swept the carpet."—London Telegraph.

CITY OFFICIAL PAPER

D. E. O'KEEFE, Editor and Proprietor

FIRST ELECTION BET

Notice of the first election bet came from New York City the other day in a news dispatch dated June 30.

"Justice Hughes was the favorite yesterday at Belmont Park over President Wilson. Bob Rose wagered $6,000 to $5,000 with Cad Doggett against Wilson, and later the latter was offered a wager of $10,000 to $7,000 that Mr. Hughes will be the next President of the United States, but this was declined.

"Though there was little betting in Wall Street today on the campaign, odds of 8 to 5 against Wilson were quoted.

"Chester Thompson, a betting commissioner, paid out $161,000 to those who had wagered that Hughes would be nominated."

When crepe on the door tells of a mother gone, only those have moisten ed a mother's grave with their tears can fully understand and read aright the black threads in the bow.

We know from sad experience that it is very inconvenient to be poor, but no man who has a happy home and it does not require lace curtains or velvet carpets to make a home happy.

Prosperity will not abide in the West before we discontinue shipping raw materials across the continent to be returned as finished products at from ten to one hundred-fold the original price.

There are many happy homes, thank God, in every community, and when they exist there goes out from them a blessed influence which can hardly be over estimated. "A real home with a mother in it," whose hospitable doors are ever open to those not so blessed, is a wonderful power for good.

A child should be made to feel that his home is indeed a home, the happiest place in the world, not merely an outward shelter and a resting place, but a center of enjoyment, sanctified and purified by love, the thought and remembrance of which should be the safeguard of his life as he goes forth to the world, giving strength and proportion to his character.

There is no man so poor that he can't afford tobacco. This is one of the things that is passing strange. You will often encounter a man who claims that he hasn't eaten anything for three days and who holds a cigar in his hand while he makes the claim On every block may be found the individual who would like to subscribe for the paper if he could afford it; he can afford to buy a chunk of tobacco as long as your arm two or three times a week, but he can't afford to store his mind with knowledge. Tobacco is a lovely and beautiful thing, but it takes a lot of money to keep a corncob pipe going for a year, even with cheap material.

All stamped envelopes which are spoiled by mistakes committed in superscribing, will be redeemed by the postoffice department at their stamp value. Postage stamps damaged by sticking together in warm or damp weather or for other causes before using, may be returned to the department and their value exchanged for new stamps. All redeemed envelopes and stamps are sent by the postmaster who redeems them to the department and records of the same are kept. These regulations are, we think, not generally known at large, and their publication may be beneficial to a large number of people.

Whatever one may say, Mr. Hughes cannot be accused of having sought the nomination.—The nomination sought Mr. Hughes. And he is most assured not the Kaiser's candidate, as his opponents assert, nor the candidate of the King of England, as Wilson seems to be, but the candidate of the American people, such as are not holding federal jobs. Americans of German birth or parentage do NOT set their native land above the land of their adoption. They are not loyal to the Kaiser and disloyal to the country in which they live—they have proved it again and again when this country was in need. On the contrary to many of them the German emperor is a thing of execration. But many so called patriots of other than Teutonic descent evidently think it a crime to have any regard for the fatherland—not even from purely sentimental reasons. To do so is treason. Though the whole world be against her, Germany must not strike back, she should offer herself an unresisting target. The German emperor is by no means innocent of this hideous, useless orgy of blood—is England? If Germans show any sympathy and manifest a spirit of asking fair play at the hands of the administration, for their brethern, are they traitors? Is Wilson so great a statesman and yet unable to comprehend and make allowance for human nature? At any rate it is more likely that a spirit of fairness will be found in a judge than in a petulant he-schoolma'am, and hence all true Americans want Judge Hughes.—Halfmoon Bay Review.

In our trade relations with Latin America the Democratic tariff law is especially defective, for the products of those countries are nearly all on the free list, and there is, therefore, no opportunity for bargaining. There can be no greater concession than that. Mr. Underwood, Mr. Simmons, and other Democrats who had a hand in the Democratic tariff abomination, took particular pains to inform the public that the rates carried in the bill were revenue rates only; that there was not a line of protection in the bill. Now, if a rate is laid for revenue only, an a particular article, how can we bargain with a country by making the rate still lower or abolishing it altogether? This would mean nothing more nor less than robbing the National Treasury of needed revenue.

This is on the theory that a tariff-for-revenue-only measure exists. That such is not the case with the Underwood tariff law, has been amply proved. It has been a sorry failure as a revenue producer. The rates on dutiable articles were put so low that the huge increase in the volume of imports failed to provide sufficient customs revenue, and resort was had to a war tax on everything from a telephone call to a stock certificate. This was followed by the repeal of the free sugar clause which was scheduled to take effect May first. The close of this fiscal year finds the United States with a record of $300,000,000 worth of imports in excess of any other year in our history, but the customs revenues are over $100,000,000 less than during the last fiscal year under the Republican protective tariff. The Underwood law has been a tariff-for-less-than-revenue.

The average rate of duty on all imports into this country for the fiscal year 1916 was under 10 per cent. That leaves practically no margin whatever for bargaining for concessions in foreign markets.

A protective tariff law would present an altogether different situation. The reciprocity agreement with Cuba was reached while the Dingley law was in force. It permitted certain articles of merchandise produced in the United States to enter Cuba at rates from twenty to forty per cent less than prescribed Cuban rate, and in return Cuba got a twenty per cent preferential rate in the United States on her sugar. But reciprocity agreements, at best, are fraught with danger. The simplest solution of the matter is to accord ample protection at home and let our manufacturers go after the foreign markets on the basis of full mill capacity and low unit cost. It is as difficult to agree upon a universally acceptable treaty as it is to agree upon a universally acceptable tariff law. Protection we must have, speedily; reciprocity treaties can be dealt with as occasions demand.

WOODSIDE NOTES

Charles Kreiss will be tendered a a party this evening by his many friends. A large crowd will come from Redwood City. Delightful refreshments are to be served, music and song is to be the order of the evening. Those who may attend will certainly have a merry time.

At a recent meeting of the school trustees of Woodside, Miss Gertrude Downie of Chico was selected as principal for the ensuing term and Miss Dorothy Clenan was chosen to teach the primary department of the school. The trustees also selected Mr. Henry Jenkins as gardener for the grounds and Mr. Flynn, father-in-law of John D. Gish, janitor. The new teachers are well qualified to take charge of the school which is one of the most prominent in the county.

Platt Kent is spending the holiday as a guest of Mr. and Mrs. James Athearn Folger at their place at Woodside. His marriage to Mrs. Folger's daughter, Miss Genevieve Cunningham, will take place at Wood side in September and will be as large and elaborate an event as the wedding of Miss Evelyn Cunningham and Joseph Donohoe Jr last summer. It is probable that Mrs. Donohue will be her sister's matron of hoe will be her sister's matron of Judge J. K. Alexander, Nestor of the Monterey bar, died at his home in Salinas on July 3. Judge Alexander lived at Portola in the early nineties and up until recently owned a large ranch adjoining the Hatfield holdings at Portola. He disposed of the ranch a few years ago. The judge and his family were well known here.. He was a native of Mississippi and was 77 years old. He came to California in 1854, settling in Sacramento county where he was elected district attorney in 1870. Later he moved to Salinas where he served two terms as superior judge of Monterey county, besides being a member of the Assembly. He was past master of the Masons of Salinas. Alexander is survived by three children, Miss Rita, Roy and Elmer Alexander.

F. Crovello, better known as Chappette, died at the county poor farm Saturday of last week after being an inmate of that institution for many years. Some years ago he was the proprietor of the Wonder Saloon at Portola, a place he conducted for many years. He was a kind-hearted generous man, giving away nearly all he had in the days of his prosperity. Those whom he aided did not return his help when he needed it. It was always thus.

When Editors Were Doctors.

Keene's Bath Journal was one of the oldest weekly newspapers in the provinces. Known as the Bath Journal, it was founded in 1742 by Thomas Roddeley, whose portrait in wig and ruffles, by Hoare, forms a picturesque reminder of the period. His daughter married John Keene, the journal from this union passing on to and through a succession of Keenes; hence its title Keene's Bath Journal.

As was the custom in bygone days patent medicines were sold in provincial newspaper offices, and the drawers in which the pills and medicines were kept at the Journal office were there until the paper suspended. It was nothing unusual for the editor in the throes of writing his editorials to have to step down from his seat to serve a box of pills.

The pages of the Journal were for a long period largely taken up by advertisements of various "cure alls."—London Times.

Arsenic In the Hair.

New light has been thrown on the legal side of arsenic poisoning. It has been found that arsenic compounds are absorbed by the hair of living persons, though not absorbed after death. In the hair of man arsenic has been known to reach a concentration of one to five parts in 100,000. The deposit takes place in the hair after it has been absorbed by the abdominal organs—liver and kidneys in particular. Therefore, in case of acute, quick poisoning, a chemical analysis of the hair would show no arsenic, while it would be found in the liver and kidneys. On the other hand, if slow arsenic poisoning was suspected, analysis would show arsenic in the hair, but not in the liver and kidneys, and it could safely be assumed that the poisoning was not recent. The legal value of such evidence is apparent.—Scientific American.

The Stork's Lazy House Building.

The most interesting sight in the Rotterdam zoo was the stork, whose nest is set high on a pinnacle of the buffalo house. He was building in the leisurely style of the British workingman. He would negligently descend from the heavens with a stick. This he would lay on the fabric and then carefully perform his toilet, looking around and down all the time to see that every one else was busy. Whenever his eye lighted on a toddling child or a perambulator it visibly brightened. "My true work!" he seemed to say. "This nest building is mere bypaths of industry." After drinking and overlooking and congratulating himself thus for a few minutes he would stroll off over the housetops for another stick. He was unquestionably a king of the garden.—Lucas in "A Wanderer In Holland."

Her Only Criticism.

Little Dorothy not only liked her tea and coffee to have the appearance of being "real and truly," but she also liked to taste the flavor of each. One afternoon her mother took her to a friend's home, where tea was served at 5 o'clock.

The hostess gave to Dorothy what she usually gave to her own children, of Dorothy's age—viz, hot water, sugar and milk. Dorothy tasted hers politely and ate her little cakes.

"Why, Dorothy, you aren't drinking your tea, dear. Isn't it sweet enough?" asked the hostess.

"Yes, Mrs. C., it's sweet enough," replied the child.

"Then why aren't you taking it?"

"It's too dull," she replied. — New York Times.

A South American Hobo.

Santiago, capital of Chile, is the home of the roto Chileno, or broken Chilean, most picturesque and unique of hoboes. The name is a byword in South America, and as far as that continent is concerned he is a unique type. We find rich people everywhere and poor people everywhere, but in no other South American country but Chile do we find this good natured, serviceable, deceitful, ragged, drunken, criminal species of tramp. He earns a livelihood by begging, doing odd jobs and thieving. The last is his mainstay. In his hands stealing has become a fine art. The Chileans have a saying that he will steal your socks without touching your boots. A long, jointed wire with a hook at the end is his favorite tool. If a window on the street is left unguarded he will with this simple contrivance successfully remove from the interior everything but the heavy furniture.—New York Independent.

Don'ts For Poets.

Arthur Guiterman in a recent interview gave a list of negative commandments for would be poets. "Don't think of yourself as a poet and dress the part," he says. "Don't frequent exclusively the company of writers. Don't complain of lack of appreciation. (In the long run no really good published work can escape appreciation) Don't speak of poetic license or believe that there is any such thing. Don't use 'e'er' for 'ever,' 'o'er' for 'over,' 'when as' or 'what time' for 'when' or any of the 'poetical' commonplaces of the past. Don't say 'did go' for 'went,' even if you need an extra syllable. Don't—don't write hymns to the great god Pan. He is dead; let him rest in peace! Don't write what everybody else is writing."—Kansas City Star.

Paraguay Lace.

Lace making was taught the natives of Paraguay by missionaries two centuries ago. Today in all towns of 8,000 inhabitants many of the men and nearly all the women and children make lace collarets, handkerchiefs and ladies' ties.

Academic Dress.

Academic dress is a sort of scholar's badge consisting of gowns, hoods and caps, copied or adapted from styles long prevalent in England, the combination of articles being so arranged as to indicate the degree or academic status of the wearer. The code was formulated by an intercollegiate college commission chartered by the University of New York and has been adopted in many American colleges. There are three distinct types of gowns and hoops—the bachelor's, the master's and the doctor's. The bachelor's gown is most commonly worn and has long pointed sleeves; the master's gown has long closed sleeves with a slit through which the forearm protrudes; the doctor's gown has velvet bars on round open sleeves and velvet facings down the front. Caps worn with such gowns are the regulation mortar boards with black silk tassels.—Philadelphia Press.

Chinese Architecture.

The monuments of China are among the most conspicuous in the world. Interpreted broadly they range from a coin or an oracle bone to the Great wall. China has more than 2,000 important specimens of the pagoda, an original form of tower architecture unsurpassed for beauty by any similar kind of structure. The Porcelain tower at Nanking deserved to be ranged with the wonders of the world, and for reasons which made it the superior of the so called seven wonders. Chinese sculpture has never been surpassed, and there is no evidence in mundane art to show that it ever will be. There is a single fragment in the Metropolitan museum in New York—a stone head of the Tang period—whose grandeur of plastic mastery since its appearance has conferred distinction upon the sculpture of the world.—Journal of the American Asiatic Association.

His College Handicap.

"I remember when it was really a disadvantage to have had a technical mining education," said John Hays Hammond. "I remember going to one of the large mining magnates of the day in California, who had got his information and experience by hard knocks, and asking for a job. He said: 'There is one serious objection to you. You have been at Freiburg, and you know you have to unlearn a good deal when you get into active practice.' I am sorry to say there is a great deal of truth in that too. 'Well,' I said, 'I will tell you in confidence, but do not repeat this to my poor father, who has made every sacrifice to send me abroad for a mining education—I did not learn a confounded thing at Freiburg.' Then he said, 'I will take you.' And that was the first job I ever got."

Federal Inquiry or Railroad Strike?

Faced by demands from the conductors, engineers, firemen and brakemen that would impose on the country an additional burden in transportation costs of $100,000,000 a year, the railroads propose that this wage problem be settled by reference to an impartial Federal tribunal.

With these employes, whose efficient service is acknowledged, the railroads have no differences that could not be considered fairly and decided justly by such a public body.

Railroads Urge Public Inquiry and Arbitration

The formal proposal of the railroads to the employes for the settlement of the controversy is as follows:

"Our conferences have demonstrated that we cannot harmonize our differences of opinion and that eventually the matters in controversy must be passed upon by other and disinterested agencies. Therefore, we propose that your proposals and the proposition of the railways be disposed of by one or the other of the following methods:

1. Preferably by submission to the Interstate Commerce Commission, the only tribunal which, by reason of its accumulated information bearing on railway conditions and its control of the revenue of the railways, is in a position to consider and protect the rights and equities of all the interests affected, and to provide additional revenue necessary to meet the added cost of operation in case your proposals are found by the Commission to be just and reasonable; or, in the event the Interstate Commerce Commission cannot, under existing laws, act in the premises, that we jointly request Congress to take such action as may be necessary to enable the Commission to consider and promptly dispose of the questions involved; or

2. By arbitration in accordance with the provisions of the Federal law" (The Newlands Act).

Leaders Refuse Offer and Take Strike Vote

Leaders of the train service brotherhoods, at the joint conference held in New York, June 1-15, refused the offer of the railroads to submit the issue to arbitration or Federal review, and the employes are now voting on the question whether authority shall be given these leaders to declare a nation-wide strike.

The Interstate Commerce Commission is proposed by the railroads as the public body to which this issue ought to be referred for these reasons:

No other body with such an intimate knowledge of railroad conditions has such an unquestioned position in the public confidence.

The rates the railroads may charge the public for transportation are now largely fixed by this Government board.

Out of every dollar received by the railroads from the public nearly one-half is paid directly to the employes as wages; and the money to pay increased wages can come from no other source than the rates paid by the public.

The Interstate Commerce Commission, with its control over rates, is in a position to make a complete investigation and render such decision as would protect the interests of the railroad employes, the owners of the railroads, and the public.

A Question For the Public to Decide

The railroads feel that they have no right to grant a wage preferment of $100,000,000 a year to these employes, now highly paid and constituting only one-fifth of all the employes, without a clear mandate from a public tribunal that shall determine the merits of the case after a review of all the facts.

The single issue before the country is whether this controversy is to be settled by an impartial Government inquiry or by industrial warfare.

J. D. Smith Gets Two Contracts. Pacific Gas Company Will Extend New System

Trustee Merrill's revised schedule of water rates for large consumers met the hearty approval of the board of town trustees Monday night. "It looks good to me," said Mayor Sampson after looking into the matter very thoroughly. Trustee Tuchsen also expressed his belief that the new schedule should be adopted. Trustee Merrill has spent much time and effort on preparing and equalizing the list of charges and merits the appreciation of every one.

City Attorney Mansfield was instructed to prepare an amendment to the water ordinance embodying these new rates. The following schedule gives the new rates compared with those now in use in San Francisco.

Mrs. Lu A. Harris, representing the Gen. Geo. S. Evans Relief Corps asked the board that more attention be given to the raising of flags over the public squares on days when the flag should be displayed. The flags were placed in the care of the janitor of the town hall who was instructed to follow a schedule of days on which to raise the flag. Mrs. Harris, in behalf of the Relief Corps offered to keep the flags in repair.

The board approved a map of Redwood Heights on Brittan and Oak avenues outside of the town limits presented by County Surveyor Neuman. The board of supervisors requested the approval of the board of trustees before passing on the map.

Fire Chief Ryan and members of the department will likely attend the convention of the Pacific Coast Association of Fire Chiefs to be held in San Diego in August. Mayor Sampson wishes to have as many go as possible.

The collections for the month of June were as follows: water rates, $1,844.60; connections, $80; dog licenses, $2; miscellaneous licenses, $116.50; taxes, $212.47; street imp. No. 13, $278.69; street imp. No. 14, $98.86; total, $2,633.12.

Harry Thompson and Norman McKenzie under the name of the Young Bachelors were granted a permit to conduct an all night dance, Sept. 16, 1916.

Trustee Tuchsen was appointed as Redwood's representative to Mayor Rolph's conferences on annexation. The next meeting will be held in a few weeks. The City Attorney will also attend.

H. O. Heiner, having made the best bid, was given the work of preparing block books and entering revisions upon the town's assessment list.

J. D. Smith was awarded the contract of watering and sweeping the streets for the ensuing year. His bid was the lowest. The bids submitted were as follows: J. D. Smith, watering, $6.57 per day, sweeping, $70 per month; B. Taylor, watering $6.80 per day; Wm. Alvis, watering, $6.70 per day, sweeping, $89 per month; Chas. H. Pickett, sweeping, $79.50 per month. Mr. Smith will file a compensation policy as part of the contract.

Requests of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company to make contacts on municipal poles in extending their new system were granted. They were also permitted to remove a large eucalyptus tree from Center street which was interfering with their high power lines.

Blanchard Brown and Company, contractors for the street work on East Brewster between Arguello and El Camino Real were granted 30 days extention of time on their contract because of delays caused by other contractors.

E. H. Shroeder was granted a permit to conduct a cigar stand and billard parlor at 238 Main street.

Trustee Merrill made it plain that taking a $5 deposit from contractors for plans and specifications of street work and holding that sum after the plans had been returned, for services rendered by the City Engineer, in "I have been on the board for eight years, and this is the first case of down-right graft that has come to me." Trustee Merrill strongly criticised Engineer Finlay for failing to answer W. J. Tobin a contractor who had returned the plans and had made several requests for the return of his deposit. In his own defense, Engineer Finlay stated that in no case were contractors assured that they would have their deposits returned, but it would be left to an action of the board. He also stated that he was not paid in any other way for his time taken up in going over the ground and answering questions for contractors. He was instructed to return $5 to Mr. Tobin. In the future all deposits will be made to the Town Clerk.

Superintendent of Streets Dickey was granted a two weeks' leave of absence.

UNCLE SAM WANTS MEN

Not many yet did heed the call
From Uncle Sam to come
And follow him, not one, but all,
To fight for "God and home."

Oh Boys! come quick, what makes you wait?
You know you ought to go;
Don't linger home until to late,
Come on, get Mexico.

Oh Boys! come now, is Uncle's pray'r,
Protect Red, White and Blue;
And show them Mexicans down there,
What the Yankee Boys can do.

Remember days of long ago,
Our fathers, brave and true;
They went to war, and all did go,
For they loved Red, White and Blue.

Come, rally around the Flag to-day,
Do what our fathers dared,
In hottest battles bloody fray,
They proved they wasn't scared.

The ranks are open yet, step in,
Boys! to the Flag prove true
United strength will help us win,
God bless Red, White and Blue.

COAST SIDE ITEMS

Antonio F. Cunha and Mary Azevedo, two very popular Halfmoon Bay people, secured a marriage license last week, the wedding to take place today.

The whole community was grieved when the sad news of the unexpected death of Mrs. J. Cardoza reached here. Mrs. Cardoza, formerly Miss Mamie Enos, died at the San Mateo hospital last Tuesday night. She leaves a family of five small children of whom the youngest is an infant of only a few days.

One by one like sheaves of grain are garnered, the old timers are being taken away by the ruthless one. The latest to respond to the summons was Mrs. Mary Dwain of Halfmoon Bay who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Mowry, at the age of 86 years.

Deceased was a native of Ireland, and is reputed to have been the first woman among the settlers in this valley. Her husband, Patrick Dwain proceeded her in death many years ago. She spent her last years at the home of Mrs. George Moury, her daughter here, where she was given the most devoted care.

Death came suddenly, though quietly and was due to senile collapse. Three children survive her: Mrs. C. H. Bloomer of San Francisco, Mrs. George Mowry of Halfmoon Bay and J. Dwain of Salinas.

The Brighton Beach Land Company have been allowed to hypothecate bonds of the face value of $14,000 in connection with the contract for construction of improvements in the company's property at Brighton Beach.

Geo. O. Rich of the Calara Valley Realty Company, has sold a large number of lots in Vallemar recently to San Francisco parties, most of them buying with the intention of building a cottage on their property and making their home there. Mr. Rich expects to dispose of all unsold lots in Vallemar this summer and then take personal charge of his interests in Moss Beach, which have been dormant for some time. Most of the property sold at Vallemar lately was unsolicited py the company. The boulevard, with the natural scenic attractions and dreat engineering feats evidenced on all sides, has been the silent drawing card. Like Vallemar, all the coastside towns are getting a share of prosperity, and it won't be long before the sound of the hammer and saw will be heard on all sides.

M. B. Johnson of Montara, Republican candidate for State Senator from the 11th district is making a thorough canvass of the counties of Santa Cruz, San Benito and San Mateo and up to the present time our townsman has no opposition and will probably have none, which we hope is the case.

George's Birthday.

The date of Washington's birthday was, according to the calendar at the time of his birth, Feb. 11. This became Feb. 22 when the Gregorian calendar was adopted in 1752. The first place to use the new date in celebrating the event is said to have been Newport, R. I. As late as 1788 Washington himself apparently used the old style in referring to his birthday. His diary for that year has this entry: "Feb. 11 went up to Alexandria to the celebration of my birthday. Many maneuvers were performed by uniform corps and an elegant ball and supper at night."

Expressiveness.

"How is your boy Reub getting along with his books?"

"First rate," replied Farmer Alf Alfa. "He's learned a whole lot."

"Knows more than you do, I bet."

"I won't say that. But he kin tell me a lot of the things I already know in language I can't understand."—San Francisco Call.

He Beat Her to It.

"Belle, are you going to marry that pinhead you were with at the dance last night?"

"Yes, if he doesn't change his mind."

"Don't be too certain about it. He changed it about me, but I was about to do the same thing about him."—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Natural Instincts.

"That callow youth acts as if the world depended on his choice of clothes."

"Well, in his salad days it is perfectly natural for a man to be particular about his dressing."—Baltimore American.

Different Classes.

"I fear she's too high for me."

"Different walks of life, eh?"

"Not walks exactly. But she's in the limousine class, and I'm only in the runabout."—Pittsburgh Post.

Decision of character will often give an inferior mind command over a superior.—Wirt.

Remembering Faces.

Hotel clerks have a way of recognizing guests as soon as they sign a register. The most successful hotel keepers have to have this power of remembering the faces of their guests and all about them or they would soon lose their custom by the mistakes they would make.

Bank cashiers carry in their memories the faces and signature of most of the customers of the bank.

Detectives, too, get into the habit of remembering the faces of every one with whom they have to deal, whether criminals or not.

"I don't think I have ever forgotten a customer," a clerk in one of the big safe deposits recently said. "There are hundreds of safe deposit boxes rented in our vaults, and I can generally remember, without referring to our books, the name, number and password of each customer."—Exchange.

Accomplished.

Blobbs—I never knew such a liar as Longbow. Slobbs—Yes. That fellow could actually get an onion and lie out of it.—Philadelphia Record.

Our Navy a Century Ago.

One hundred years ago the naval force of the United States on the Atlantic coast consisted of thirty-three vessels, twenty-seven of which were in commission. Among them were a dozen great ships, first class frigates and sloops of war, some of them carrying as many as seventy-four guns each. They were all sailing vessels. The era of the steam warship, however, was close at hand. With the aid of an appropriation from congress there was now nearing completion a "floating steam battery," designed by Robert Fulton. This ship, which was launched a few months later, was the first steam war vessel ever built and was destined to revolutionize the methods of naval warfare throughout the world.—Exchange.

India's Hoarded Gold.

For many years London has been steadily drained of her gold by India. In ten years India has absorbed from circulation 150,000,000 gold sovereigns and hoarded them away. The coolie has learned that silver rupees are a poor investment, especially if he melts them into anklets or a nose ring for his wife as over 30 per cent of the silver is lost in the melting pot, while the gold sovereign preserves its value whether he keeps it as a coin or melts it. When a coolie collects 15 rupees which he finds to be temporarily surplus he buys a sovereign with it. He has come to understand the wisdom of hoarding away only the gold coin, which he knows he can always realize on at its original value.

TORTURE FOR CONVICTS.

The Cruel Methods In Use In Portugal's Mozambique Colony.

Mozambique being one of the principal convict settlements of the Portuguese government, many poor creatures make desperate dashes for liberty only to be devoured by the sharks before the eyes of their guards. It was no uncommon event to hear the fortress gun boom forth, announcing that another poor soul was running this ghastly gantlet of the sharks sooner than exist like a half starved dog in deplorable surroundings.

There being no capital punishment under Portuguese law, many of the convicts were of course of the most desperate type—notorious murderers, and so on. Some of them, after a certain time and as a reward for good conduct were allowed to work on parole, leaving the fortress in the morning and returning at night, plying their various trades to their own advantage. Others of a more dangerous character might be seen working in chains on the road, guarded by slovenly half caste sepoys.

Outside the dungeon cells were whipping posts, over which poor creatures had to kneel, their arms and legs being bound to iron rings, while lashes were administered with a chicotte, a strip of hippo hide. Palmatoria was another torture used. Although illegal to Portuguese law, it is nevertheless still widely used, causing excruciating pain. The implement employed is a flat, spoon shaped heavy piece of hard wood about an inch and a half thick, with a handle eighteen inches long, the spoon head being perforated with five holes. The person to be punished extends the palms of his hands, and sharp, regular blows are administered, which at each stroke suck up the flesh. The bravest can rarely stand more than thirty blows, for the tortured hands swell to double their natural size. The sentence is often several hundred blows, the punishment continuing on succeeding days until "justice" is satisfied.—Sibyl Belcher in Wide World Magazine.

The Inns of Chancery.

Most of the old inns of chancery are no more. Clement's inn, where Falstaff and Shallow "heard the chimes at midnight;" New inn, of which Sir Thomas More was a member; Lyon's inn, where Cobe once taught the students; Furnival's inn, where Charles Dickens lived; Thavies inn, which was one of the earliest of all the legal settlements in London; Barnard's inn, where Lord Chief Justice Holt was among the "principals"—all these historic places have "in the change and chance of time" disappeared from view. Staple inn remains in its ancient state by the good will of the insurance company that purchased it a number of years ago.—London Law Journal.

Good Reason.

In his book about his distinguished father the son of Louis Agassiz tells a story that relates to the life of the great scientist in America. A few years before his death he came into his house in Cambridge delighted with an occurrence he had just seen in Boston. A carriage pushing through the crowd had knocked down a woman. Her escort proceeded to pummel the driver. "But why," asked the listener, "didn't the owner come to his driver's assistance?" "Oh," exclaimed Agassiz, "I was holding him."

Wasted Apology.

"One day," says a London journalist, "the late Walter Emanuel called on me and chatted delightfully. After half an hour the humorist said he must go and apologized for having wasted so much valuable time.

"'Don't mention it,' I rushed to reply. 'It has been a pleasure.'

"'Oh, it's not your valuable time I'm thinking of!' said Mr. Emanuel as he picked up his hat. 'It's mine!'"—Exchange.

Caffeine.

Caffeine, the active principle of coffee, was discovered by Runge in 1820. In a pure state it takes the form of long silky needles. In ordinary coffee it is present to the extent of about 1 per cent, but Java coffee contains 4.4 and Martinique has as much as 6.4.

There is a story of a man who was tied up in a dark room and informed that he was to be put to death by bleeding. His tormentors made a small incision in his neck and arranged for a stream of lukewarm water to trickle down his back for fifteen minutes. At the end of fifteen minutes the man died of exhaustion. He had not lost a drop of blood, but he thought he had. Such is the power of suggestion.—London Saturday Review.

Know There Were Fairies.

The Woman Who Saw has a little friend with wide open eyes and long brown curls. Sometimes when the Woman Who Saw is at her little friend's house and the other members of the family happen to be out of the room there is a chance for delightful little conferences. The Woman Who Saw always tries to make such opportunities, and she made one on her last visit.

Her little wild eyed friend had been watching for it too. In a flash she lighfed upon the arm of the sofa and whispered into the ear of the woman: "Do you know, there are fairies! Because"—excitedly—"last night I made a little swing for them on my desk, such a wee little swing, out of the tiniest, tiniest pieces of sticks and cobwebs. And—this morning the swing was all broken! And that shows that the fairies swung in it last night, doesn't it?"

The Woman Who Saw longed suddenly for that volume of Hans Christion Andersen and the window looking out upon the orchard—long ago.—New York Evening Sun.

His Palindrome.

A tourist traveling with a party of friends was seized with a sudden illness and was compelled to remain for some hours in a hotel. He insisted that the others must go out and enjoy the day and said that he would spend a few hours composing a palindrome—a sentence the letters of which are in the same order whether read forward or backward.

"All right," said one of the party, "but you'll never beat the sign I saw in a country store when I was a boy and red root was in some demand:

"RED ROOT PUT UP TO ORDER."

When the party returned the sick man's face wore a triumphant smile as he handed the following lines to his friend:

To prove him to a doubting maid,
Ned a bold, dangerous task essayed,
And when he came in triumph home
She answered with a palindrome,
Ere half his fervent plea was done,
"Now, Ned, I am a maiden won."

England's Most Beautiful Village.

When Sir John Gorst succeeded his brother in his Wiltshire property he became the owner of what is held, in the west country at any rate, to be the most beautiful village in England. All visitors to Bath are supposed to have misused their opportunities unless they have been to Castle Combe, and indeed the sweet little place is so extensively visited, although it is five and a half miles from any railway, that during the summer months provision is made on the last day of the week for from 800 to 1,000 trippers. The surrounding scenery is not less picturesque than the village itself, and to those who are interested in such matters there is also the attraction of a long history. The church of Castle Combe, which is ancient, has been restored without being spoiled.—Westminster Gazette.

Balzac and Dumas Literary Foes.

It is said that Balzac detested Dumas. Once he brought to the Siecle the manuscript of a novel, which was to follow "Les Trois Mousquetaires," then being published. He asked to be paid 2½ francs a line. The director of the journal hesitated. "You see, M. Dumas is being paid only 2 francs a line." "If you are giving 2 francs to that negro I shall get out!" And Balzac stalked off.

Dumas was not ignorant of Balzac's feelings toward him and did not spare him. In the foyer of the Odeon theater Balzac was talking loudly in a group of literary men. "When I have written myself out as a novelist I shall go to playwriting." "You can begin right away," called out Dumas.

A Bad Boy of Colonial Days.

A notebook of a justice of the peace in Connecticut in the year 1750 specifies the behavior of a certain small meeting house boy as follows:

A rude and idel behaver in the meting hows such as smiling and larfing and intiseing others to the same evil.

Such as larfing or smiling and pulling the heir of his nayber benoni simkin in the time of publick worship.

Such as throwing Sister Penticost Perkins on the ice it being Saboth Day or Lord's Day between the meting hows and his plaes of abode.—Bliss. "Side Glimpses."

Great Scheme.

"What do you do," asked the one who had been married only a few months, "when your husband comes home late at night?"

"I pretend not to notice that it's late, and pretty soon he asks me if I wouldn't like to go to the theater or somewhere tomorrow afternoon."

Two of a Kind.

"I hope you liked that pudding, Mr. S.," said the stern mother-in-law. "Poor, dear Clara took great pains with it."

"Did she?" exclaimed the son-in-law, with an expressive movement of his hand on his stomach. "So did I."

Consequences.

He—My first wife never objected to wearing the same suit two seasons. In fact, she never objected to anything. She—I suppose not. After she had lived with you for awhile she didn't even object to dying. — Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Two Important Matters.

"Now, Katie, do you know enough to keep your mouth shut?" asked the fashionable woman of the girl she was about to engage.

"Well, ma'am, I know enough to all right, but the question is, Do I get enough wages to encourage me to?"—Yonkers Statesman.

Selfishness.

The selfish man suffers more from his selfishness than he from whom that selfishness withholds some important benefit.—Emerson.

Regrets.

For all we know, the gaudy butterfly may have moments in which it regrets the fine times it had as a caterpillar.—Puck.

Wisdom is ofttimes nearer when we stoop than when we soar.—Wordsworth.
